

YEAH - JOIN US!

YEAHs are low-threshold walk-in centres where young people can easily get support for mental health issues. We now want to conduct a Delphi study on our Fidelity Scale to find out what these kind of centres should include and what you expect appropriate care to look like.

What is a Delphi study?

A Delphi study is a structured process in which a group of people with relevant experience share their opinions in several rounds. After each round, the results are summarized and shared with the group. The goal is to gradually reach consent.

What is a Fidelity scale?

In this Delphi study, we are developing a fidelity scale - a tool used to see how well a service does what it was designed to do. In this case, the scale is investigating how well YEAHs follow their main principles, such as being accessible, youth-friendly, and well-integrated.

What can I gain from participating?

You will receive 15€ amazon vouchers as a thank-you for your time and input if you participate in all rounds.

How can I participate?

If you are interested in taking part in the online Delphi study, simply scan the QR code to access SoSciSurvey. There, you can find out more about the study and its procedures. If you decide to participate, you can register by clicking through the survey.

Scan the QR-Code to learn more about the study and register with SoSciSurvey

If you have any further questions before, during or after your participation, you can always contact us.
